

Driving Directions: Comox Airport to the Wickaninnish Inn

Your overall travel time from the Comox Valley Airport to the Inn will be approximately 3 hours.

- Turn right at the airport entrance onto Knight Road.
- Turn right at the intersection onto Military Row (drive approximately 2km).
- At the next stop sign, turn left onto Ryan Road.
- Continue on Ryan Road (past Home Depot and down the hill), watching for signs indicating Nanaimo.
- Turn left just past the Superstore complex following the road to the 17th St. bridge, where you will turn right.
- While on the bridge, get into the left hand turning lanes.
- Turn left onto Cliffe Avenue and continue to follow signage that will direct you to turn right onto the 29th St. connector.
- After turning right onto the connector, continue until you see signs that direct you to Highway 19 southbound toward Nanaimo.
- Once on Highway 19 South, watch for signs pointing you to Highway 4 West toward Port Alberni/Pacific Rim National Park Reserve/Tofino and exit in this direction.
- Once on Highway 4, (also known as the Pacific Rim Highway) head west for 156km (97 miles). You will drive through spectacular Cathedral Grove, historic Port Alberni (drive straight downhill and turn right at the junction/river), and on the winding road around Sproat and Kennedy Lakes. You will also drive through scenic Sutton Pass—at an altitude of 250m (850 feet)—where we especially recommend heeding to the speed limit. Travel westward until you come to the junction between Tofino and Ucluelet.
- Turn right at the Tofino/Ucluelet junction and drive north towards Tofino for 28 km (17 miles). Do not turn at the sign for Wickaninnish Beach or Wick Road, but continue right through the Pacific Rim National Park Reserve toward Tofino.
- Once you pass Jamie's Rainforest Inn on your right, take the first left turn at the Wickaninnish Inn sign onto Lynn Road (at the crosswalk).
- Approximately 250 yards down Lynn Road, take the right fork onto Osprey Lane and continue for 300 yards until you reach the Inn. The first building to come into view on your left is Wickaninnish-On-the-Beach, followed by Wickaninnish-At-the-Pointe. Your confirmation will show which building houses your guest room. We wish you safe travels, and look forward to welcoming you!
